Dublin Caſtle, October 10.

THIS Day, the Parliament having met, according to the Prorogation, his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant went in State to the Houſe of Peers, and being ſeated on the Throne, with the uſual Solemnity, the Gentleman Uſher of the Black Rod was ſent with a Meſſage from his Excellency to the Houſe of Commons, ſignifying his Pleaſure that they ſhould immediately attend his Excellency in the Houſe of Peers; the Commons being come thither accordingly, his Excellency made the following Speech to both Houſes:

My Lords and Gentlemen,

YOUR diſtinguiſhed Loyalty to the King, your juſt Attention to the Honor and Dignity of His Government, and your well-regulated Zeal for the Peace and Happineſs of your Country, have made ſo ſenſible an Impreſſion on my Mind, during a three Years Reſidence amongſt you, that, encouraged by the Experience of what I have ſeen, it is with the moſt ſincere Satisfaction I meet you again in Parliament.

I am perſuaded that you entertain a grateful Senſe of the Bleſſings you enjoy under the mild and firm Government of the beſt of Sovereigns; and His Majeſty relies on the known Zeal and Loyalty of His Subjects of Ireland, that, whilſt His Government is diſturbed by a Rebellion exiſting in a Part of His American Dominions, you will be ready to ſhew your inviolable Attachment to His Perſon and Government, in the Aſſertion of His juſt Rights, and in the Support of His legal Authority.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

I have ordered the proper Accounts and Eſtimates to be laid before you, that you may be enabled to judge of the Proviſions neceſſary to be made for the ordinary Expences of His Majeſty's Eſtabliſhments, and for diſcharging an Arrear which has been unavoidably incurred.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I am happy to inform you, that, ſince your laſt Meeting, His Majeſty's tender Concern for the Welfare of this Kingdom, hath induced him to paſs ſeveral Laws in the Britiſh Parliament highly beneficial to your Commerce, your Manufactures, and your Agriculture.

By the Act which extends the great Advantages of Britiſh Fiſheries to Ireland, a Source of Induſtry and Wealth is opened to you, which has made other Nations great and flouriſhing: Let me, therefore, recommend to your earneſt Attention, the Improvement of Advantages, tending ſo obviouſly to promote your Navigation and Trade; in the Purſuit of which you may depend upon my warmeſt Aſſiſtance and Support.

The Act which allows the Cloathing and Accoutrements neceſſary for His Majeſty's Forces, paid from the Revenues of this Kingdom, to be exported from Ireland, is a particular Mark of the Royal Favor; and even that which allows the Importation of Rape Seed into Great Britain from this Kingdom, under certain Regulations, connected with thoſe ſalutary Laws paſſed in your laſt Seſſion, form ſuch a Syſtem of Agriculture and Improvement as will, I truſt, ſecure Riches and Plenty to the People of Ireland.

A Bounty granted by Great Britain upon the Importation of Flax Seed is ſo marked a Recommendation of the Linen Manufacture, that it becomes needleſs for me to urge the moſt perſevering Application to that Staple of your Country.

The Proteſtant Charter Schools, an Inſtitution eſtabliſhed on the Principles of Wiſdom and Humanity, and ſo peculiarly adapted to the preſent State and Circumſtances of this Kingdom, are eminently entitled to your Conſideration and Care.

On my Part, you may be aſſured that I ſhall continue faithfully to repreſent your Loyalty and Zeal to His Majeſty; and that I ſhall chearfully co-operate with you in whatever may tend to advance the Proſperity and Happineſs of this Kingdom.

St. James's, October 17.

The following Addreſs of the Magiſtrates, Incorporated Societies, and Principal Inhabitants of the Town and Port of Leith, having been tranſmitted to the Earl of Suffolk, One of His Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State, by Henry Dundas, Eſq; Lord Advocate in Scotland, and Repreſentative in Parliament for Edinburghſhire, has been preſented to His Majeſty: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majeſty's faithful Subjects, the Magiſtrates, Incorporated Societies, and Principal Inhabitants of the Town and Port of Leith, think it our Duty on this Occaſion, with unanimous Voice, to teſtify our Loyalty at the Foot of your Throne.

The Differences between Great Britain and ſome of her Colonies have now come to ſuch a Criſis, that every Community feels itſelf a Part of the Nation, and every good Citizen is intereſted in the Publick Cauſe.

We cannot reflect, without Concern, on the Agitations that muſt have ariſen in your Sacred and Paternal Breaſt upon this unnatural Diviſion; nor think, without Horror, on thoſe of your Majeſty's Subjects, who have ſown the Seeds of Diſſenſion, and kindled the Flames of Civil War, between one Part of your Majeſty's Dominions and another.

Attached to that Order flowing from good Government, which is the Baſis of Human Felicity, and fully ſatisfied with that Liberty which is derived from the Laws, we look upon the audacious Attempts to overturn our happy Conſtitution, with Indignation, and abhor the vile Artifices that are uſed to alienate the Affections of your People from the beſt of Sovereigns.

Senſible of the great Increaſe of our Trade and Commerce, and certain that Induſtry, when cheriſhed by Liberty and protected by Valour, will ever be crowned with Succeſs, our Hearts overflow with Gratitude for the Happineſs we enjoy under your Majeſty's Government; and we reſt with Confidence upon the Wiſdom and Rectitude of your Majeſty's Meaſures, for bringing the preſent unhappy Differences to a Concluſion, which ſhall be conſiſtent with the Honour of Great Britain.

But if our unhappy and deluded Fellow Subjects in America ſhall continue in their unnatural and unprovoked Rebellion, with our Fortunes and with our Lives we will aſſert the Supremacy of our King and Parliament over every Part of the Britiſh Empire; and teach the Sons of Anarchy, that the ſame Arm, which was lately ſtretched out for their Defence and Security, and which drove all their Enemies far from their Borders, can with equal Eaſe chaſtiſe ungrateful and rebellious Subjects; happy that the Rod is in the moſt mild and merciful Hand, in the Hand of the Father and Friend of his People.

Signed in our Name, in our Preſence, and at our Appointment, by our Præſes, one of the Magiſtrates of Leith, and the Seal of the ſaid Town is hereto affixed. James Cundell, Præſes.

Tranſlation of an Advertiſement, publiſhed by the Daniſh College of Pilots, September 26, 1775.

IT having been already advertiſed in the News-Papers, that an unexpected and very remarkable Change has happened on the Logſtoer-Grounds in the Limfiord, the Depth of the Water being conſiderably augmented by the hard Weather in the Night between the 28th and 29th of March this Year; and this Change having been very carefully examined by me, in Purſuance of an Order ſent to me from the Chamber of Finances of the Weſt Indies and Guinea, the following Marks have been placed for the Direction of Navigators:

1. When a Ship approaches the Logſtoer-Grounds, and Sail-Depths, from the Weſtward, and is to paſs them, the North Courſe is at preſent to be taken by thoſe who are going Eaſtward. On the North-Hook, in the North Courſe from the Weſtward, is laid a Sea-Tun, which is large, and eaſy to be ſeen, in Six Feet Water. It is to be found in the Eaſt, on the Compaſs.

2. On the high Land South of Aggerſund's-Hill, on the Fields of Tholſtrup, Two Land-Marks are to be ſeen; the Weſtermoſt is an upright Mark with a ſquare Table on the Top of it, Three Ells (or Six Feet) Square, and white-waſhed. The Eaſtermoſt has the Figure of a Pyramid, broad below and pointed at Top, and is alſo white-waſhed. At the Top of it is placed a Tun, ſet upright on one End, with Stakes acroſs through both Ends, which are tarred. Along the Slope where the two Land-Marks ſtand, there is a Trench dug in the ſame Direction with both the Lank-Marks, which looks white by reaſon of the chalky Ground of the Cliff. Theſe Marks are at a proper Diſtance from each other, for Perſons to diſtinguiſh eaſily when they are out of the Line of Direction. When the Sea-Tun is kept Eaſterly, you muſt not come nearer than in Nine or Ten Foot Water, then ſteer Southward until the Two Marks, ſet upon Land, are brought into One. You may ſail in that Direction till you have the Tun oppoſite to you in the North, where in daily and common Water you will not find leſs than Six and an Half Feet Water in that Courſe of Steering, which is the deepeſt Channel, and increaſes gradually to the Weſtward, without Fear of any Banks.

3. On the Eaſt Point of the Middle Grounds is laid a Buoy-wager, in eight Feet Water, for the Information of Navigators who are going from the Weſt, through the North Courſe from the Sea Tun, Eaſtward, and alſo of thoſe who come from the Eaſt, to pitch directly on the North Courſe, in order not to miſtake and run into the South Channel.

4. In Spring and Fall, if the Sea-Tun ſhould be taken in, (which is always done, as long as there is any Ice to be apprehended in the Shoal Waters) Navigators coming from the Weſt, and approaching the Northern Channel or Sail-Depths of Logſtoers, muſt remember to look for the Two Land-Marks raiſed on Tholſtrup Cliffs, and bring them into One, continuing this Courſe till Malle Church is ſeen between the Houſes of Lendrup, where they will find the Longitude of the Place of the Sea-Tun. From thence the Courſe runs Eaſtward through the North Channel.

(Signed) A. Lauz,
Captain Commodore in His Majeſty's Navy, and Maſter-Pilot in certain Diſtricts of Seeland and Jutland.
